
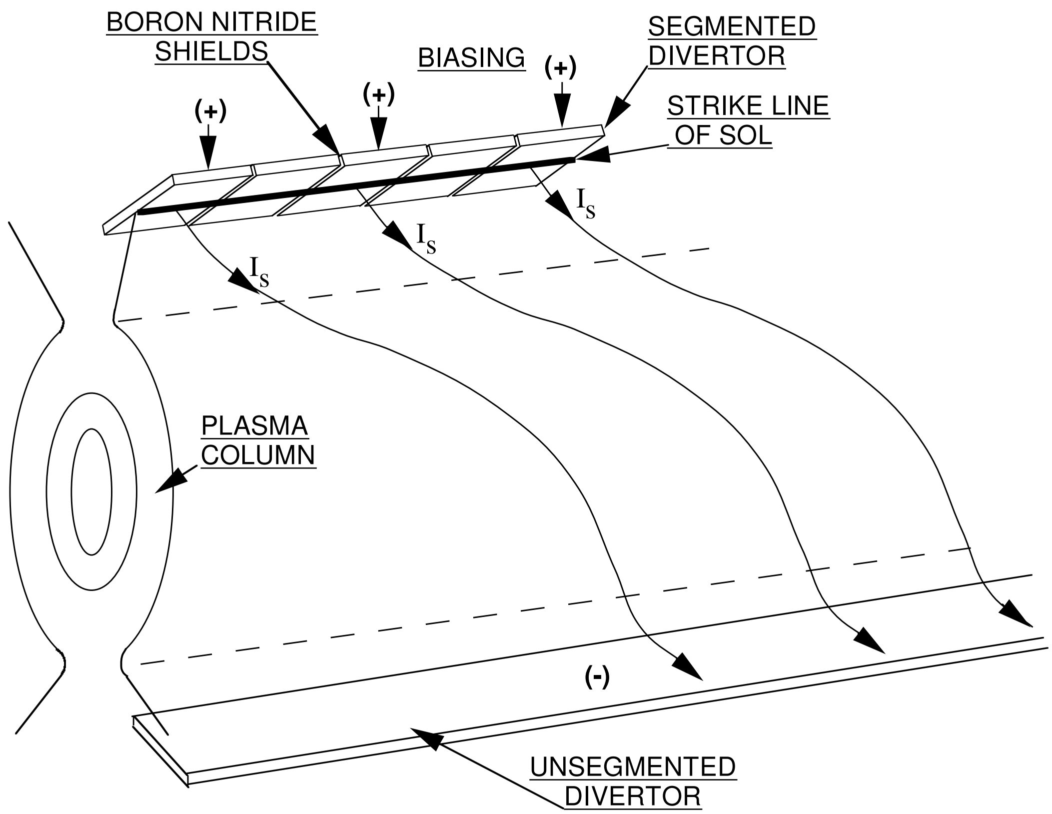

Fig.1. Toroidally segmented upper outer divertor for feedback control of SOL currents. Bias is applied to different segments by the feedback stabilization control system.